Type of Item loom

Manufacturer Lillstina

Description This loom is jack-type, direct tie-up, lever-operated. The harness levers are located on top of the castle at the center front of the loom making them easy to reach and operate. Each harness can be raised independently. The harnesses run in grooves and can be easily operated and removed. The swiveling beater is a great feature for whatever one is weaving as one can control the angle and impact of the weft. This loom is also collapsible as the castle lifts out and can lie flat between the breast and warp beams. Easy to transport to events.

Description The loom is handmade, high-end, and in excellent condition. 36 in. front to back, 49.5 wide and 3 feet high. But the back beam can be folded in, against the loom, in order to allow it to pass through a doorway easily or take up less space when not in use. It is an eight harness loom with 12 pedals, which gives it an amazing amount of design possibilities. The front beam is removable to allow for easier tie ups and threading. I am sorry that I can not recall the maker, but it was made in a small town in California. The bench (images in separate email to follow) is 30 x 14 x 23 high and has a slight slope towards the loom. It has a 3 in. deep drawer under the seat that slides sideways in either direction to hold tools etc. There are also six reeds ranging from 6 warp threads per inch to 16 warp threads per inch. All the tools needed to weave are included.

Description Swiss/Austrian Parlor Wheel. This antique wheel with its unique turnings is beautifully crafted. The 28" wheel is set to the floor. Like many similar wheels, the spinner sits to the side parallel to the wheel. Because of the size of the wheel and the way it is set, it is very stable. This wheel has been featured in several publications, The initials, FV, are carved in the crosspiece for the spindle mount. The wheel with its ornate turnings and rings, I always romanced, was made by a very talented woodturner for his true love or commissioned by or for a lady of means. I brought it back from Europe and have never seen another so beautifully crafted.

Description Canadian Flat-rimmed Wheel Early 19th Century wheel comes from the French region of Ontario. Although it has a bobbin/flyer and is treadle operated it is a single drive belt with a tensioning device for the bobbin. The upright support of this wheel has been crafted from one turned piece sawn in half to make the two supports. The wheel has a replacement bobbin and flyer which is a copy of the original which was too worn to be repaired for heavy use. This is a great production wheel.

Description Patent Pendulum Wheel
Patented May 22, 1868 E. Glendillen. This counterbalance or pendulum wheel enables the spinner to sit and still spin on the equivalent of a great wheel. It is rather similar in motion as a woolen mule and is best suited for rovings. It can take a bit of skill to master, but great fun and speedy production. The treadle and wood tension handle have been replaced – copied from the worn parts. Fun wheel when exhibiting. The wheel has been unassembled to make it easier to transport. Please note the wheel is approximately 52 inches in diameter and the largest piece is 78 inches in height.
